The Real Issue

Our endeavors to dismantle racism, oppression, disenfranchisement and heal our communities do not address or provide strategies to reverse its impact on our mind, body and emotions.

When we recognize how deeply this trauma is embedded within our psyche, we see how it sabotages our behaviors because unresolved trauma causes us to focus our actions on band-aiding the symptoms instead of removing the root causes.

Solve The Problem

Root Cause Analysis

Every challenge that we face in our community has repeated and will continue to repeat itself until we focus our efforts on identifying and removing the root causes.

It is time for us to transform our business and social strategies.
